EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The UBC Annual Enrolment Report (2022/2023) (appended) provides detail information about new-to-UBC and continuing students system-wide and at the Okanagan and Vancouver campuses. Enrolment, which is central to UBC's 2018-2028 Strategic Plan: Shaping UBC's Next Century, has remained strong.

Strategy 1: Great People

Attract, engage and retain a diverse global community of outstanding students, faculty, and staff.

For the current year, 2022/2023, UBC has been funded by the government for 43,364 FTEs, and 51,362 FTEs, were enrolled, a utilization rate of 118%. As of November 1, 2022, most of the unfunded enrolled FTEs were made up of graduate students: the graduate student utilization rate was 170% and the undergraduate utilization rate was 110%.

UBC Okanagan was funded for 7,167 domestic undergraduate and graduate student FTEs. As of November 1, 2022, the delivered domestic FTE was estimated to be 8,886, a decrease of 18 FTEs over the previous year. UBC Vancouver was funded for 36,197 domestic undergraduate and graduate student FTEs, and delivered 42,476, a decrease of 132 FTEs over the previous year.

UBC's strategic plan is to "build and sustain a global university community, represented of all, including historically excluded populations. Consistent with our intention to be a leader in diversity and equity, we will recruit more expansively, including Indigenous students."

UBC is committed to expanding educational opportunities for Indigenous students. As of November 1, 2022, an estimated 745 Indigenous students were enrolled on the Okanagan campus, a 1.7% decrease over the previous year. A further 1,558 students were enrolled on the Vancouver, an increase of 7.7% over the previous year.

Since 2013, UBC has promoted access for student with lived experience in government care. These are students who received care from the Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) or a Delegated Aboriginal Agency (DAA) through the Child, Family and Community Service Act for a minimum of 24 months (consecutive or accumulated). In addition to special consideration in the admissions process, and support in the application process, students with lived experience in care are eligible for a tuition waiver. Over the past five years, the number of registered students at UBC who are “post-care” has tripled; currently there are 87 former youth in care registered with either a Ministry or UBC tuition waiver, a 93% increase from 2018/2019 and a 1% decrease from 88 students in 2021/2022.

World University Service of Canada (WUSC) is a non-profit organization established to provide educational opportunities for youth around the world. The Student Refugee Program combines resettlement with opportunities for higher education; they support over 130 refugee students annually and partner with about 80 Canadian universities. In all there are 38 WUSC students enrolled at UBC.

In 2022/2023, 2,666 international students were enrolled on the Okanagan campus, representing a 2% increase over the previous year. International students represented 22% of the total student population; 19% of all undergraduate students and 47% of all graduate students. In 2022/2023, 17,243 international students were enrolled on the Vancouver campus, representing a 3% increase over the previous year; 27% of all undergraduate students and 39% of all graduate students.

Enrolling a diverse student body that represents British Columbia, and the world is a key goal to providing an enriched student campus experience. In 2022/2023, UBC’s international students, at both campuses combined, were citizens of over 160 countries/territories. About 31% of UBC’s international students held Chinese citizenship. Following China, the most common countries of citizenship were India, the United States of America, Iran and the Republic of Korea.

In summary, 2022/2023 was another successful year for enrolment on the Okanagan and Vancouver campuses. A remarkable achievement in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic. UBC continues to surpass the government-funded number of domestic students, is maintaining a healthy enrolment of international students from many countries, and its strategic initiatives are increasing the enrolment of Indigenous students and other historically under-presented students.

PREFACE

THE 2022/23 ACADEMIC YEAR

As the world moves further in its journey towards ending the COVID-19 pandemic, we welcomed new and returning students to our campuses and learning sites, resuming with the primary modality of in-person learning. Work continues to take place to re-define our 'new normal' on all facets of university life and operations, including student teaching and learning modalities, student recruiting, and delivery of support services. Opportunities are being seized to leverage the creative and innovative adaptations that have been gained through the pandemic to date, such as the continued and expanded scope of on-line and virtual prospective student recruitment engagement, allowing for increased inclusivity and flexibility in our approach to enrolment.

In our efforts to achieve UBC's enrolment objectives, and in alignment with UBC's various strategic plans including the Inclusion Action Plan, Indigenous Strategic Action Plan and the Anti-Racism Inclusive Excellence Task Force Report, commitment and focus on advancing equity, diversity and inclusion (EDI) in our recruitment and admissions processes and practices remains a high priority. Work is continuing with the development and enhancement of staff training to strengthen EDI knowledge and competencies when performing assessments and adjudications, including training content such as (but not limited to) recognizing unconscious bias; intersectionality; privilege and positionality; context, history, and experience of Indigenous, Black and people of color, as well as people with disabilities and 2SLGBTQ+ individuals.

Ongoing evaluation of the impact and progress of our work in this area will be supported by the Student Demographic Data Project and its forthcoming recommendations, anticipated to be published in early 2023. Enhanced collection of disaggregated student demographic data will enable the university to better assess progress of equity, diversity and inclusion priorities, improve our understanding of student experiences and effectively support student inclusion and success.

Academic Essentials, entering its third year, has fast become a well-established and foundational program for undergraduate students to prepare for their classes and university learning experience. Over 2,000 students registered this year, representing over 4,500 registrations in three on-line, free of charge, self-directed courses designed to help new first-year students with academic readiness, transition to university and refresh concepts and theories.

Undergraduate students applying to UBC this year did so through the provincial admissions service, EducationPlannerBC (EPBC). This fully integrated common online application platform provides an enhanced and streamlined experience for students to conveniently apply to B.C. post-secondary institutions. It brings forward many opportunities including the consistency in the collection of applicant data, such as the collection of student demographic data (e.g., updated gender markers).

While there was a decrease in the 2022/2023 application numbers as compared to the year before, this decrease is seen as a normalization of applications received. In 2021/2022, while the pandemic was still in its height, a spike in applications occurred, particularly with international and graduate applicants. This year's application numbers are course correcting, trending in alignment with pre-pandemic application numbers.

International student applicants, particularly those from India, experienced notable delays this year with the processing of their student visas by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC). These delays impacted 2022/2023 international enrolment across both campuses. Like the COVID-19 pandemic, this is yet another example of how external factors outside of the University's control can impact our ability to meet established enrolment targets. Despite these challenges, UBC's overall student enrolment this year on both campuses remain stable. This is a testament to the outstanding efforts led by UBC's recruiting and admissions units. UBC's commitment to providing world class education and nimbleness to address changing circumstances, undoubtedly provides for continued strength in enrolment and students' success.

INTRODUCTION

The UBC Annual Enrolment Report (2022/23) provides detailed information about incoming and enrolled students system-wide and at the Okanagan and Vancouver campuses. UBC's enrolment objectives are to:

- meet the Government's targets for domestic undergraduate and graduate FTEs,
- increase the enrolment of Indigenous students,<sup>1</sup>
- provide access for other historically underrepresented populations,
- and enrol a diverse community of outstanding students from British Columbia, the rest of Canada, and around the world.

New undergraduate student enrolment is managed according to targets approved annually by the Senates and the Board of Governors. Targets are set based on a group of known factors and a group of variables that must be estimated. Known factors include the degree programs offered and physical space occupancy limits. Variables that must be estimated include the number of students who will accept an offer of admission, the number of students that will actually register and pay their tuition, whether the students will take normal course loads, the students' progression and retention rates, and the number that will graduate in a given year.

Managing the admissions process to meet the established targets requires estimating and modelling based on additional factors such as the number of applications received, the academic qualifications of those applicants, the decision-making behaviour of the potential students, changes to Canada's political relationships with other countries, changes in the economy including currency fluctuation, and other unforeseen global events, such as pandemics.

Most of the variable factors can be modelled with good accuracy based on data collected over prior years, but a few factors are highly unpredictable, or cannot be controlled by UBC. As a result, it is a rare event to enrol exactly to target for a program, or even more so at the campus level. Given the strengths of UBC, the demand for our programs is very high, leaving us in the enviable position of managing down to targets in most cases, rather than facing the prospect of under enrolment.

It is important to note that there is a difference between total new student enrolment targets and the Ministry's "funded" seats. The UBC targets include several categories of enrolment that are not directly funded by the provincial government, but are important components of the campus communities. The categories typically excluded from Ministry funding include international undergraduate students, access studies, visitors, diploma and certificate students, most graduate students in research degree programs, and others.

Student enrolment is generally reported in one of two ways: as a headcount, which is a measure of the number of students enrolled, and as a full-time equivalent (FTE), a measure of the course activity of the students enrolled. FTEs for undergraduate students are calculated by taking the number of annual course credits taken by a student and dividing by the normal or expected number of credits required by the student's program and year level. For example, a student who takes 27 credits in a particular year, and whose program expects that 30 credits will be taken, is counted as 0.9 FTE. For graduate students, the FTE is determined by awarding 1.0 FTE for full-time status and 0.33 FTE for part-time status, for each term, summing the three terms in an academic year, and then dividing by 3 to create an annual average FTE.

The B.C. Ministry of Advanced Education and Skills Training sets targets for, and funds, student FTEs rather than headcounts. These FTE targets are set for domestic students (e.g., Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and refugees), and do not apply to international undergraduate students. The Ministry provides base funding and strategic funding. Base funding is allocated based on a specified number of FTE student spaces for domestic undergraduate and selected graduate students. The strategic funding is designed to create domestic student spaces for high priority areas with significant labour market demands, such as for the health professions. For the 2022/23 fiscal year (April 1, 2022 to March 31, 2023), UBC was government-funded for a total of 43,364 FTEs, 182 more than the previous year; 7,167 FTEs were allocated to the Okanagan campus and 36,197 FTEs were allocated to the Vancouver campus. Overall, 37,283 FTEs were funded undergraduate domestic student spaces and 6,081 were funded graduate student spaces. There were an additional 133 FTEs for the 2022/23 year directed to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Occupational Therapy program – North program, Physiotherapy Therapy — Fraser program, Midwifery program, Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, Bachelor of Applied Science in Biomedical Engineering, and Bachelor of Applied Science in Manufacturing Engineering on the Vancouver Campus. On the Okanagan campus, the additional 49 FTE were directed to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Bachelor of Science in Computer Science and the Bachelor of Applied Science in Manufacturing Engineering, and the Master of Social Work.

UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE STUDENT ADMISSIONS

HOW MANY UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS APPLIED, WERE ADMITTED, AND REGISTERED AT UBC?

UBC uses a competitive admission process because it receives applications from more students than can be accommodated. UBC’s admission requirements are designed to select students who are the most likely to succeed in their learning and to thrive on campus. Whereas UBC recruits for diversity in the incoming class, admission decisions are based solely upon a fair and equitable process that evaluates applicants on their individual merits. Ultimately, the goal is for the university to achieve its enrolment objectives in terms of the composition, qualities, and size of the incoming class.

Students apply, complete their applications with all necessary documents, gain admission, and ultimately register in courses. Each stage of the process contains fewer students than the previous stage and requires ongoing analysis and strategic decision making to ensure the best possible enrolment outcomes. UBC attracts applications from many international students and the numbers have been increasing over time. It is important to note that international students do not compete with domestic students for the government-funded seats and thus do not displace domestic students. The two groups of students are measured by a common standard in two independent applicant pools and processes.

In September 2021, UBC started using a new application system for undergraduate admissions, EducationPlannerBC. The new system, which is a province-wide service, integrates planning, application and data movement services. By using centralized planning resources, students can search for information about various programs, institutions and communities across B.C. When students decide to apply to one or more programs, they can complete their application through the system without having to re-enter the same information for each application. In addition, the service further expands electronic transcript exchange including more K-12 and post-secondary institutions and provincial hubs.

Figures 1 through 4 illustrate the campus-specific undergraduate applicant pools by domestic and international status. Each pyramid shows the numbers of submitted and completed applications, and the numbers of admitted students and subsequent registrations for 2018/19 through 2022/23. Undergraduate students may apply to two programs, ranked in order of choice, offered by one or both campuses. The application pyramids report the students’ first choice programs for the number of submitted and completed applications and the number of students admitted. The numbers of registered students have two counts: the upper number represents the number of students who registered in their preferred or first choice of program or campus (Ch1) and the lower number represents the number of students registered in their second choice, an alternative program on either campus (Ch2). The two counts combined provide the total number of new students registered.

Each pyramid shows the number of submitted and completed applications, the number of admitted students and subsequent number of registrations for 2018/19 through 2022/23. A submitted application identifies a complete formal request to enter a UBC program of study accompanied by payment of an application fee. A complete application identifies that all documentation and information required to initiate the evaluation of the application was received. The term “admitted” identifies that an application was reviewed and UBC extended an admission offer to enrol to the applicant. Lastly, “registered” identifies that the student accepted the offer of admission, selected courses and started attending classes. The pyramid shapes in Figures 1 through 8 indicate that at each stage of the enrolment process some applicants do not progress to the next stage.

In 2022/23, the total Choice 1 applicant pool (with completed applications) for the Okanagan campus decreased over the number received in 2021/22. The size of the domestic undergraduate applicant pool decreased by 6% compared to 2021/22 (see Figure 1), and the international undergraduate applicant pool decreased by 7% (see Figure 2).

For the Vancouver campus, the total Choice 1 applicant pool (with completed applications) decreased by 4% over 2021/22. The domestic applicant pool increased by 4%, over 2021/22 (see Figure 3), and the international applicant pool decreased by 14% (see Figure 4).

UBC receives applications from very highly qualified students. These high achieving students typically have several offers of admission from universities across Canada and around the world; consequently, they do not always accept UBC's offer of admission.

Based on past experience, we anticipate the proportion of applicants that would typically accept an offer of admission and register; consequently, a specified number of offers of admission are made to ensure that the targeted number of students actually register. The admit and yield rates are shown in Table 1. The admit rate is the ratio of students offered admission to their preferred choice of program to the number of completed applications received; this includes applicants refused admission for failure to achieve minimum requirements (e.g., missing a pre-requisite course) and those refused due to lack of space (e.g., their academic and personal profile assessments were not sufficiently competitive). The yield rate is the ratio of registered students to the number offered admission to their preferred choice of program. The admit rate is influenced by the number of applicants, the number of seats available for each applicant pool (domestic and international) and the likelihood that the student, once offered admission, will register (these likelihoods vary for domestic and international students).

Yield Rate: Within an admissions cycle, the ratio of registered students to admitted students.

UBC's ability to achieve its enrolment objectives is the result of strategic recruitment activities, supportive advising, and robust orientation programming for newly admitted students. For 2022/23, 46% of the direct-entry students admitted to their preferred program ultimately accepted their offer of admission. Of those who accepted an offer of admission to a program, 13% did not register and attend classes in September. Last year, 45% of these students accepted their offer of admission and 13% of those did not ultimately register and attend classes.

After letters with offers of admission are provided to successful applicants, a targeted and timed communication campaign keeps these applicants engaged with the university through to the deadline by which they must accept their offer.

HOW MANY GRADUATE STUDENTS APPLIED, WERE ADMITTED, AND REGISTERED AT UBC?

Figures 5 through 8 illustrate the campus-specific graduate student applicant pools by domestic and international status. Each pyramid shows the numbers of submitted applications, the numbers of admitted students and subsequent registrations for 2018/19 through 2022/23. The years 2018/19 through 2021/22 contain intake data as of March 1st, whereas the 2022/23 intake was in progress, at the time of writing, and contains preliminary data as of November 1, 2022. It is important to note that many prospective students are counselled not to complete an application if a graduate program does not have a faculty member available to supervise the student, given the student's area of academic interest within the discipline. Consequently, the numbers of applications shown here underestimate the total interest in graduate studies at UBC.

For Figures 5 through 8, the 'Submitted' value refers to the number of students who submitted one or more applications, rather than a count of applications submitted. In 2022/23, the number of graduate student applicants for the Okanagan campus grew by 50% over 2021/22. The domestic applicant pool grew by 29% over 2021/22 (see Figure 5), and the international applicant pool grew by 57% (see Figure 6).

For the Vancouver campus, the number of graduate student applicants decreased by 9% over 2021/22. The domestic applicant pool decreased by 5%, over 2021/22 (see Figure 7), and the international applicant pool decreased by 11% (see Figure 8). The admit and yield rates, for both campuses, are shown in Table 2.

GRADUATE STUDENT RECRUITMENT

For UBC Vancouver, graduate student recruitment efforts occur at all levels of the university community, from individual faculty members, to graduate programs, deans' offices, and the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies (G+PS). Much of this work involves collaboration between units and G+PS, and is guided by the Marketing and Recruitment Framework which provides a detailed approach to developing a marketing and recruitment plan. Significant resources continue to be focused on coordinating UBC's recruitment and applicant ecosystem to support incoming students, such as an extensive onboarding email campaign, interactive checklist, pre-arrival webinars, and social and academic support events. General outreach initiatives continue to be very popular with prospective students such as an Applicant Guide eBook that assists applicants through the application process. It has been downloaded over 71,000 times since its launch in October 2021. Virtual outreach events are very well attended (over 29,000 registrations for 45 events) and G+PS has been collaborating with programs, faculties and partner universities in hosting a variety of information and admissions advice sessions. Additional activities included outreach to historically underrepresented groups, hosting an Indigenous Graduate Student Summer Institute, streamlining the advertising service for student positions in career networks, and collaborations with faculty members on initiatives such as faculty member advice videos.

While application numbers have decreased compared to 2021, application counts are 17% above the 2020 levels. 2021 is seen as an outlier year with record numbers due to shifts in demand patterns as a result of the pandemic. Both offer and registration numbers for 2022 exceed the previous year which speaks to the strong applicant pool despite lower application numbers. Web traffic continues to show high demand with the G+PS main website serving 2.2 million users and 12.2 million pageviews, year to date as of November 21st.

On the Okanagan campus, each faculty manages the marketing and recruitment for their specific graduate programs. This includes prospective student webpages for each graduate program, the creation of student and supervisor profiles, and conventional marketing activities for graduate student recruitment, including attendance at selected recruitment fairs, and digital marketing campaigns. Working with External Relations, faculties have undertaken digital marketing campaigns (including Google advertising and social media advertising) to promote priority programs.

Additionally, after a successful trial last year, University Relations and the College of Graduate Studies have collaborated to deliver a digital marketing campaign designed to introduce prospective graduate students to the Okanagan campus. This campaign centres on Google Search advertising and is complemented by Google Display and social media placements.

New opportunities such as an Indigenous Graduate Student Orientation, workshops, and a pathways program that will support the transition of Indigenous undergraduate students to graduate studies has launched at UBC Okanagan through the role of the Indigenous Graduate Student Advisor. This role was established in partnership between the College of Graduate Studies and Indigenous Programs and Services, and is dedicated to advising prospective and enrolled Indigenous graduate students, and identifying opportunities to improve admissions, enrolment, and retention of Indigenous graduate students.

WHAT IS THE ACADEMIC POTENTIAL OF NEW UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS?

UBC students are academically successful and well-rounded. A holistic evaluation method has ensured that current and future graduating classes will consist of focused, bright leaders who work collaboratively and who engage with their communities.

For direct-entry undergraduate applicants, all Grade 11 and Grade 12 academic courses are considered in the admission decision along with a review of courses and grades that are particularly relevant to the program to which a student has applied. This review of academic course grades also considers the extent to which a student may have challenged their self as evidenced by the volume of academic courses completed or rigour of the courses completed. The mean entering grade range, for all academic courses a student completed in the senior years of secondary school, was 85-87% for students attending the Okanagan campus; on the Vancouver campus, it was 89-91%.

The comprehensive and holistic review of academic coursework and grades is taken in conjunction with a review of the accomplishments (both academic and non-academic) and experiences outside of the classroom of each applicant. This process involves assessing personal profiles, which provide applicants with the opportunity to describe the things that are important to them, their significant achievements, what they have learned from their experiences, and the challenges that they have overcome. UBC looks at each prospective student as a whole person: a combination of talents, interests, and passions.

In 2022/23, over 89,000 personal profile reviews were scored for applicants to UBC. Personal profiles are read and scored by trained readers, consisting of over 400 UBC staff members, faculty members, and alumni. Each profile is read and assessed independently by two readers; in cases where the assessors are not in agreement, the file is reviewed by a third (and possibly fourth) reader until a consistent assessment is achieved. Overall, it is estimated that about 14% of admitted applicants would not have been admitted with a grades-only admission model (this rate varies by program and campus).

WHERE DID UBC'S NEW DIRECT-ENTRY STUDENTS PREVIOUSLY STUDY?

Figure 9 displays, for each campus, where 2022/23's new direct-entry students previously studied. Note that citizenship is different from the location of the institution previously (last) attended; many Canadians matriculate from schools outside of Canada (and are counted against the domestic enrolment targets) and many international students, matriculate from schools within Canada (and are counted against the international enrolment targets).

In 2022/23, 78% of the new-to-UBC undergraduate students (N = 2,203) on the Okanagan campus entered directly from secondary school. Of those students originating from an Okanagan regional secondary school, the Central Okanagan school district provided the largest proportion of students, followed by the Surrey and Vancouver school districts.

In 2022/23, 7,279 new direct-entry students, who comprised 75% of the new-to-UBC undergraduate students, registered at the Vancouver campus. Of the registered students, 38% (N = 2,802) had previously studied at an institution in the Lower Mainland, 10% had studied elsewhere in B.C. (N = 737) including the Okanagan, and 32% had studied outside of Canada (N = 2,323).

UBC actively recruits students from all over the world and has relationships with several thousand secondary schools globally. New direct-entry students who previously studied at an institution outside of Canada originated from 96 countries. The most common countries or territories, outside of Canada, for each campus, are shown in Figure 10.

WHERE DID UBC'S NEW TRANSFER STUDENTS PREVIOUSLY STUDY?

Students with previous experience at another post-secondary institution entered UBC via many pathways. Some had graduated from high school, studied at a college, and then transferred to UBC. Others had completed secondary school several years ago, then earned an undergraduate degree and returned to post-secondary education for further education at UBC. Figure 11 illustrates the location of the previous institution attended by new transfer students to each of UBC's campuses in 2022/23.

In 2022/23, 632 new-to-UBC undergraduate students transferred from another post-secondary institution to the Okanagan campus, representing 22% of all the new-to-UBC Okanagan undergraduate students. Figure 11 shows that 415 students (or 66% of all the post-secondary transfer students) previously attended a post-secondary institution in B.C.

In 2022/23, UBC Vancouver registered 2,369 post-secondary transfer students, who comprised 25% of all the new-to-UBC students on the Vancouver campus. Most of these students (62%) transferred from a post-secondary institution in B.C.

WHERE DID INDIGENOUS STUDENTS AT UBC PREVIOUSLY STUDY?

Indigenous students at UBC are mostly direct-entry students from secondary schools, although the proportion who first register at UBC as transfer students is much higher than the overall proportion of domestic transfers. Table 3 shows the Indigenous student headcount, by campus, by student level, and by the type of institution previously attended. Most Indigenous students at UBC studied in B.C. before enrolling at either the Vancouver or Okanagan campus. A small proportion of enrolled Indigenous students studied at institutions from Central or Eastern Canada. Figure 13 identifies the previous institution provinces for Okanagan students (N = 717) and Figure 14 for Vancouver students (N = 1,395).

Figures 15 (N = 2,220) and 16 (N = 7,164) are maps of where UBC's 2022/23 new undergraduate students previously studied (if in Canada); these data include both domestic students and international students already studying in Canada on a student permit, issued by the Government of Canada, before registering at UBC. For both the Okanagan and Vancouver campuses, the majority of new students had studied in B.C. or Alberta, with a smaller proportion coming from institutions in Central and Eastern Canada.

IN WHICH COUNTRIES OR TERRITORIES DID UBC'S NEW INTERNATIONAL UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS PREVIOUSLY STUDY?

In 2022/23, new-to-UBC international undergraduate students came from many countries or territories (see Figure 17, N = 527 and Figure 18, N = 2,809). For both the Okanagan and Vancouver students, Canada, followed by China, India and the U.S.A. were the top 3 places of previous study, with several other European and Asian countries contributing to large numbers of students.

WHAT IS UBC'S GOVERNMENT-FUNDED DOMESTIC FTE COUNT BY CAMPUS?

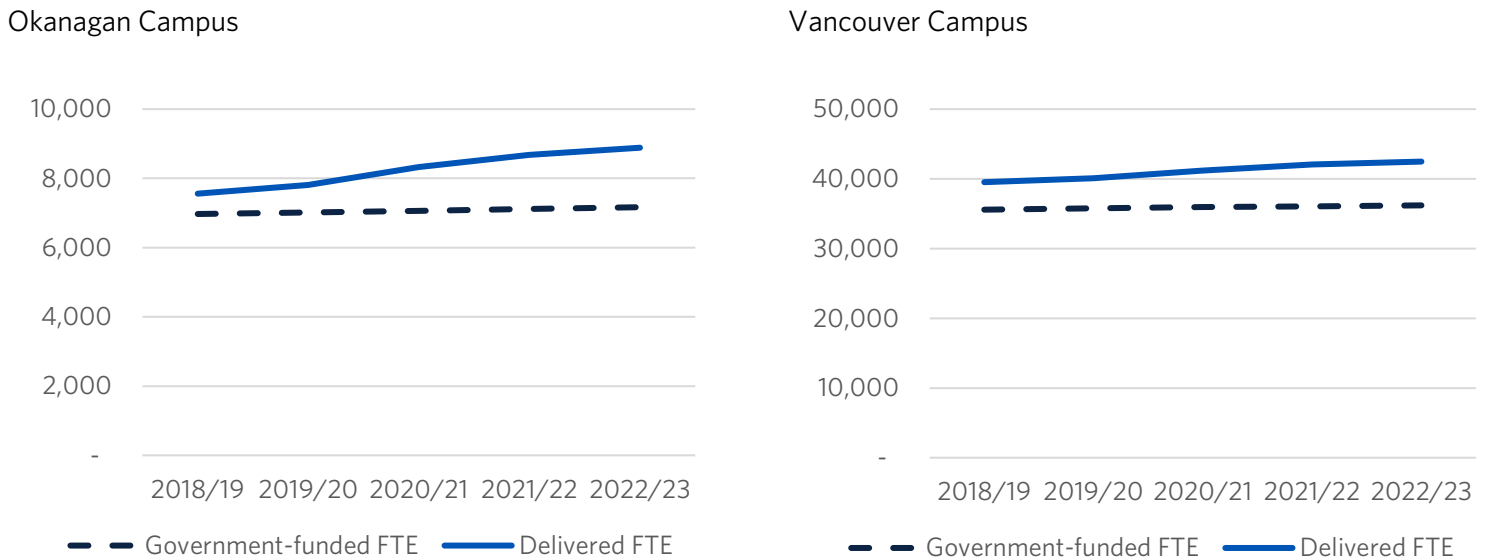

Figure 23 illustrates the historical and 2022/23 fiscal year estimated delivered (actual) domestic FTEs for both campuses, against the Ministry targets.

UBC Okanagan was funded for 7,167 domestic undergraduate and graduate student FTEs for 2022/23 and delivered over the FTE target. As of November 1, 2021, the actual FTE total enrolment was estimated to be 8,886, an increase of 208 FTEs over the previous year, representing a utilization rate of 121% (about 121% estimated for the official reporting date of March 1, 2022, accounting for attrition from the fall to winter terms). As of November, UBC Okanagan had an undergraduate utilization rate of 110% and graduate FTE utilization rate of 787%.

UBC Vancouver was funded for 36,197 domestic undergraduate and graduate student FTEs. The Vancouver campus surpassed its government targets achieving 42,476 FTEs as of November 1, representing a utilization rate of 117% (about 117% estimated for the official reporting date of March 1, 2021, accounting for attrition from the fall to winter terms). As of November, UBC Vancouver had an undergraduate utilization rate of 110% and graduate FTE utilization rate of 155%.

Combining both campuses, government-funded domestic FTEs for 2022/23 were 43,364 and actual enrolment was 51,362 FTEs, which results in a 118% utilization rate. There were 41,001 undergraduate domestic student FTEs enrolled representing a utilization rate of 110%, and 10,361 graduate student FTEs enrolled representing a utilization rate of 170%.

HOW MANY STUDENTS DID UBC ENROL IN 2022/23?

In 2022/23, 71,585 undergraduate and graduate students were enrolled at UBC (reported as a headcount), an increase of 0.4% over the previous year. The number of undergraduate students was 58,222 and graduate students was 12,812 (see Table 4). Eighty-three percent of UBC students were enrolled on the Vancouver campus in 2022/23, with the remaining 17% enrolled on the Okanagan campus. The Non-Degree category, shown in Table 4, includes students taking courses outside of a degree program (e.g., as an unclassified, qualifying, visiting or auditing student), as well as students taking courses after completing a baccalaureate program. Tables 4, 5, 6, and 7 report total enrolment as headcounts; corresponding tables with FTEs are provided in Appendix B.

On the Okanagan campus, there were 11,978 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in 2022/23, a negligible decrease over the previous year. Since being established in 2005/06, headcount enrolment has increased by 241% (N = 3,511). Undergraduate student enrolment decreased by 2% over the previous year and graduate student enrolment increased by 16%. Further, 2022/23 was UBC Okanagan's largest graduate student enrolment, to date (N = 1,368). Approximately 27% of all Okanagan students enrolled in 2022/23 were new-to-UBC students (N = 3,215).<sup>1F2</sup>

The Vancouver campus 2022/23 total enrolment grew to 60,607 an increase of 1% over the previous year, with nearly all of the growth concentrated in undergraduate baccalaureate students, graduate doctoral students, and non-degree student enrolment.

HOW MANY DOMESTIC STUDENTS DID UBC ENROL IN 2022/23?

Domestic students are defined as Canadian citizens, permanent residents, or refugees. Table 5 provides the domestic student headcount enrolments over the past five years, for both campuses, by student level and program type.

Domestic undergraduate student enrolment at UBC Okanagan decreased by 1% in 2022/23 (N = 8,667 in 2021/22), while domestic graduate student enrolment increased by 1% (N = 713 in 2021/22). Domestic new-to-UBC undergraduate student enrolment in 2022/23 (N = 2,266) decreased by 5% when compared with the previous year (N = 2,380 in 2021/22) (not shown in the Table).

At UBC Vancouver, domestic undergraduate and graduate student enrolment in 2022/23 (N = 41,815) decreased compared to 2021/22 (N = 41,968). Domestic new-to-UBC undergraduate student enrolment decreased between 2021/22 (N = 8,048) and 2022/23 (N = 7,941) by 1%.

HOW MANY INDIGENOUS STUDENTS DID UBC ENROL IN 2022/23?

UBC is committed to expanding educational opportunities for Indigenous students. There is some imprecision associated with the reported number of Indigenous students enrolled at UBC because students are not required to identify as Indigenous at any time during their studies, but can do so voluntarily. Students' Indigenous status is gleaned from several sources: students may self-identify as part of the admissions process, or they may self-identify at any time after initial admission. Thus, the numbers of Indigenous students shown in Tables 3 and 6 are an underestimation of the actual number of students enrolled.

Reporting is based on the number of Indigenous students of Canada. There are a small number of additional students who are not included in the following sections because they are international Indigenous students, that is, they require government-issued study permits to enrol at UBC.

In 2022/23, 6.3% of students enrolled on the Okanagan campus self-identified as Indigenous (N = 745), constituting 8.0% of all domestic students. About 2.6% of all students on the Vancouver campus identified as Indigenous, constituting 3.6% of all domestic students.

In 2022/23, 310 new-to-UBC Indigenous students enrolled in a baccalaureate or post-baccalaureate program on the Vancouver campus. In addition, 46 new Indigenous students started a graduate program; 44 in master's programs and

2 in a doctoral program. On the Okanagan campus in 2022/23, 147 new-to-UBC Indigenous students enrolled in a baccalaureate or post-baccalaureate program. An additional 7 Indigenous students started a graduate program: two students entered doctoral studies and 5 started a master's program.

UBC places great importance on partnering with Indigenous communities and promoting access to postsecondary education for Indigenous students. To better support retention and to support students' success, specialized personnel have been added to undergraduate and graduate admissions and recruitment teams. Under the guidance of the UBC Indigenous Strategic Plan these roles actively advance initiatives and services in support of Indigenous students throughout their UBC experience. Examples of such initiatives and services include Indigenous student yield and orientation programming, a range of workshops and events (i.e., wellness events, tutoring sessions) offered in partnership with First Nations House of Learning and Supporting Aboriginal Graduate Enhancement (SAGE).

HOW MANY INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS DID UBC ENROL IN 2022/23?

International students are those who require a study permit issued by the Government of Canada, to attend UBC.<sup>3</sup> Table 7 shows the number of international undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in the years 2018/19 through 2022/23, by campus, and by program type. Excluded from the totals are visiting international research students who, although attending UBC and assigned student numbers, are not enrolled in “for-credit” courses (41 on the Okanagan campus and 348 on the Vancouver campus).

In 2022/23, 2,666 international students were enrolled on the Okanagan campus, representing an 2% increase over the previous year (N = 2,609), which is the largest international student population to date. International students represented 22% of the total student population. In 2022/23, 829 international undergraduate and graduate students were new to the Okanagan campus; new-to-UBC international undergraduate enrolment decreased by 14% (N =586) over the previous year (N = 679) (not shown in the Table). International students made up 19% of all undergraduate students and 47% of all graduate students. Since 2012/13, the compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of new-to-UBC undergraduate international students on the Okanagan campus has been 10%.

In 2022/23, 17,243 international students were enrolled on the Vancouver campus, which represents an 3% increase over the previous year. The proportion of international students was greater at the graduate level, where they comprised 39% of all graduate students. International students comprised 27% of all undergraduate students.

HOW MANY TRANSFER STUDENTS DID UBC ENROL IN 2022/23?

Transfer students enter a UBC degree program either after completing courses in a different UBC program, or after obtaining relevant post-secondary course credits from another recognized university or college. Figure 24 identifies that 2,503 new-to-UBC transfer students enrolled in Vancouver and 647 enrolled in an Okanagan program. In addition, 1,239 students transferred internally between UBC programs in Vancouver and 342 in the Okanagan. The Vancouver campus enrolled 602 international new-to-UBC transfer students and 56 enrolled in the Okanagan.

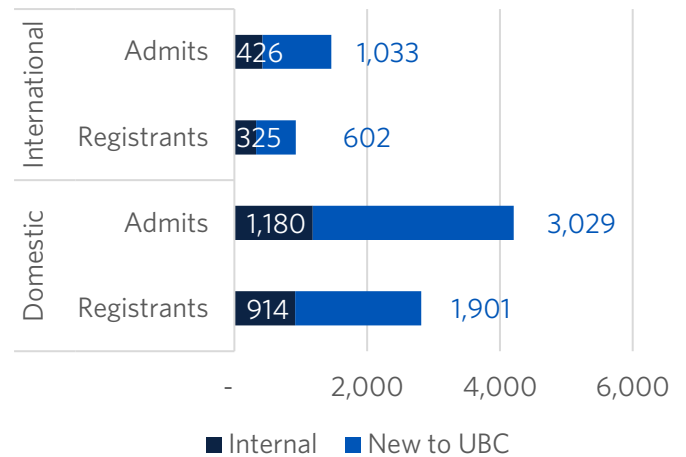

Figure 25 focuses on UBC students who transferred between programs on different campuses. In 2022/23 this included a total of 339 undergraduate students. Twenty-five students transferred to the Okanagan campus from a Vancouver program, and 314 students transferred to Vancouver from the Okanagan campus.

HOW MANY STUDENTS WERE ENROLLED IN VANTAGE COLLEGE?

UBC's Vantage College was established in 2013 to offer a transformational first-year education experience for outstanding secondary school graduates from countries with domestic school systems that are significantly different from those in North America and Europe. The college's program, Vantage One, offers an enriched first-year undergraduate experience for international students who, after successfully completing one year of coursework combined with intensive academic English preparation, transition into the second year of their chosen degree program. In 2022/23, students transitioned into: Arts (Vancouver campus), Engineering (the Vancouver and Okanagan campuses), and Science (Vancouver campus). The headcounts for 2022/23 Vantage College students are: 56 students in the Applied Science stream, and 116 in the Science stream.

HOW MANY STUDENTS WERE YOUTH FORMERLY IN GOVERNMENT CARE?

In 2013/14, UBC was one of a handful of B.C. post-secondary institutions that started to prioritize access for students with lived experience in government care. UBC has committed to reach out and build relationships with these prospective and current students by providing “wrap-around” support to: help students navigate the application and admission process; navigate the services and resources available to them at UBC and in the broader community; and provide social and developmental programming for students with lived experience in care on UBC’s Vancouver campus.

Undergraduate, unclassified, and second-degree students with lived experience in care are eligible for a tuition waiver at UBC. The age limit for UBC tuition waiver eligibility was lifted effective 2020/21, recognizing and expanding access to students whose journey to post-secondary was delayed after “aging out” of care.

Since the inception of the Provincial Tuition Waiver in 2017/18, the number of registered students at UBC who were “post-care” has more than doubled. In more recent years, the growth trend appears to be stabilizing. There are currently 87 former youth in care studying at UBC on either a Provincial or UBC tuition waiver, a 93% increase from 2018/19 and a 1% decrease from 88 students in 2021/22. Since the inception of the program in 2013, 58 former youth in care students have graduated from UBC with undergraduate degrees. Figure 26 shows that in 2022/23 tuition waiver initiatives are providing support to 87 students who were formerly in government care.

HOW MANY WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE OF CANADA STUDENTS WERE ENROLLED?

World University Service of Canada (WUSC) is a non-profit organization established to provide educational opportunities for youth around the world. The Student Refugee Program combines resettlement with opportunities for higher education; the program supports over 130 refugee students each year through partnerships with about 80 Canadian universities. A key to WUSC’s success is its unique youth-to-youth sponsorship model that is designed to empower Canadian students to play a role in the sponsorship of refugee students. UBC’s local committees raise funds and awareness for the program and play a vital role in providing social and academic support for the 10 WUSC new-to-UBC students enrolled in 2022/23. In all, there are 38 WUSC students enrolled at UBC. Together, UBC's student society, the Alma Mater Society (AMS), the UBC Student Union Okanagan, donors, and the central administration cover the students' tuition, book fees, and partial housing and living expenses.

WHAT ARE THE DEMOGRAPHIC CHARACTERISTICS OF UBC'S STUDENTS?

In addition to the gender values denoting women and man, undergraduate students applying to UBC this year through EducationPlannerBC (EPBC) were also provided with the additional marker choices of non-binary and choose not to disclose. These additional values result in two gender data sets as continuing students do not have access to these additional gender marker choices in the current student system. This issue will be resolved and all students will have access to the updated gender marker choices with the upgrade and modernization of UBC's student information system to Workday Student this fall.

The gender distribution of students enrolled at UBC in 2022/23 was generally consistent across both campuses, with women students representing a small majority on both campuses (see Figure 27). There are 106 students on the Okanagan campus and 398 students on the Vancouver campus with 'no declared gender' for 2022/23. The merging of the two data sets results in a total of 303 gender variables for students being 'unknown' across both campuses (224 Vancouver campus, 79 Okanagan campus), contributing to slightly higher numbers of students with 'no declared gender' for 2022/2023.

The majority of undergraduate students, in 2022/23, were 25 years of age or younger (92% of Okanagan students and 87% of Vancouver students) (see Figure 28). On the Okanagan campus, the undergraduate students' average age, in 2022/23, was 21 years. Of graduate students on the Okanagan campus, the largest proportion was the 26-30-year age group (36%), followed by the 21-25-year age group (32%); the average age was 30 years. On the Vancouver campus, the undergraduate students' average age was 22 years. The largest proportion of graduate students (33%) was the 26-30-year age groups followed by the 21-25-year age group (32%); the graduate students' average age was 30 years.

WHAT CITIZENSHIPS ARE HELD BY UBC'S INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS?

In 2022/23, UBC's international students, at both campuses combined, were citizens of over 160 countries/territories. Tables 8 and 9 show the top countries or territories of citizenship for the Okanagan and Vancouver campuses, respectively, and Figures 29 (N = 2,666) and 30 (N = 17,234) provide maps of the countries or territories of citizenship for undergraduate and graduate students at each campus. About one third (31%) of UBC's international students held Chinese citizenship in 2022/23 (N = 6,133). Following China, the most common countries of citizenship were India, the U.S.A., and Iran.

The diversity of international students on the Okanagan campus has increased markedly since 2005/06 (the Okanagan campus's first year of operation), when 20 countries were represented by 86 students. In 2022/23, 115 countries and territories were represented by 2,666 students.

A total of 156 countries were represented by 17,234 international students on the Vancouver campus in 2022/23 as seen in Figure 30 (N = 17,241 with 7 Unknown). Thirty-two percent of these international students held Chinese citizenship (N = 5,587). Since 2012/13, the number of international students with Indian citizenship has increased by 736%.

HOW MANY CREDENTIALS DID UBC AWARD?

Vancouver undergraduate students may graduate in either the spring (May/June) or fall (November). On the Okanagan campus, ceremonies are held in the spring. Credentials are reported by calendar year. Table 10 shows a steadily increasing number of credentials awarded, which is consistent with UBC's enrolment growth over the period under review. A total of 2,270 credentials were awarded to Okanagan campus graduates in 2021. Since 2005, over 24,000 credentials have been awarded to Okanagan graduates. The Vancouver campus has had 16% growth in the number of credentials awarded annually between 2017 and 2021. Almost 13,500 credentials were awarded to students on the Vancouver campus in 2021.

The number of Indigenous students conferred a UBC degree has increased by 72% between 2017 and 2021 (see Table 11). Indigenous students at the Okanagan campus received about 6% of all the undergraduate and graduate credentials awarded in 2021. At the Vancouver campus, Indigenous students received about 2% of all the credentials awarded in 2021.

WHAT ARE UBC'S UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS' RETENTION AND COMPLETION RATES?

Reported here are the retention and completion rates of the cohort of students who met the Consortium for Student Retention Data Exchange standard definition; that is, they began as first-time (new-to-UBC), full-time, first-year students. The retention rate measures persistence from first year to second year, irrespective of whether there was a change in program or campus, or change from full- to part-time study. If the students were registered at one of UBC's campuses, in the subsequent winter session, they were counted as having been retained at UBC (at the system-level). For undergraduate students, it is typical to report completion rates within six years of the students' program start date.

Overall, 88% of the 2021/22 cohort of UBC Okanagan first-year undergraduate students were retained into 2022/23; 87% of the domestic cohort and 92% of the international cohort were retained.

For UBC Vancouver, 93% of the 2021/22 cohort of first-year undergraduate students were retained into 2022/23. Vancouver international students had somewhat lower rates of retention than those of domestic students (see Figure 31). With the most recent cohort, 95% of domestic students and 90% of international first-year students were retained from 2021/22 into 2022/23.

Okanagan Campus

Vancouver Campus

With respect to the cohort of undergraduate students who began their degree programs in 2016/17, 71% of UBC Okanagan students and 80% of UBC Vancouver students completed their programs within six years.

Overall, six-year completion rates have remained consistent over time, with very slight but steady increases over the last three years. Figure 32 shows the completion rates, by campus, for the cohorts that have had sufficient time (i.e., six years) to complete their programs.

WHAT ARE UBC'S INDIGENOUS UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS' RETENTION AND COMPLETION RATES?

UBC's Indigenous undergraduate students' retention and completion rates are also reported according to the Consortium for Student Retention Data Exchange standard definition (i.e., they began as first-time, full-time, first-year students). These retention rates are indicators of persistence from a student's first year into the subsequent year, irrespective of whether the student changed programs, campuses, or opted for part-time study.

Overall, 75% of the 2021/22 cohort of UBC Okanagan first-year undergraduate degree program Indigenous students were retained into 2022/23, and for UBC Vancouver, 85% were retained.

With respect to the cohort of full-time Indigenous undergraduate students who began the first-year of their degree programs in 2016/17, 65% of UBC Okanagan students and 65% of UBC Vancouver students completed their programs within six years.

WHAT WAS THE TIME TAKEN BY UBC GRADUATE STUDENTS TO COMPLETE THEIR PROGRAMS?

The entire cohort of graduate students is considered when determining completion rates, rather than limiting the analysis to full-time students. Figures 35 and 36 show the cohorts of UBC Okanagan and Vancouver master's students (Okanagan, N = 617; Vancouver, N = 9,331) who began their programs between 2011/12 and 2014/15, and the number of years between the start of their programs and degree completion.

Okanagan course-based master's students had a graduation rate of 94% (N = 101) within six years and took an average of 2.3 years to complete their studies. Thesis optional students had a graduation rate of 93% (N = 196) and took an average of 2.3 years to complete their programs while 87% (N = 311) of students in programs requiring a thesis graduated in an average of 2.8 years.

On the Vancouver campus, 95% (N = 5,046) of course based master's students graduated within six years and took an average of 2.2 years to complete their programs. Ninety-four percent (N = 1,659) of thesis optional students graduated within six years and took an average of 2.3 years to complete, and 93% (N = 2,570) of students in thesis required programs graduated in an average of 2.9 years.

For both campuses, most master's students graduated within one to three years, irrespective of whether they were in a thesis-based, thesis-optional, or course-based program.

For UBC's doctoral students, whose programs are expected to take longer than those of master's students, the report is based on how many students graduated within nine years of program entry.

On the Okanagan campus, 143 (75%) of the 190 doctoral students that have had at least nine years to complete their degrees have done so (starting between 2008/09 and 2011/12). The 143 students who have completed are shown in Figure 37. The 47 (25%) students who did not complete their degrees withdrew from their program after an average of 2.7 years of study. Okanagan doctoral students took an average of 5.4 years to complete their studies and are shown in Figure 37.

For the Vancouver campus, 2,525 students began their studies between 2008/09 and 2011/12, and 2,180 (86%) completed their doctoral degrees within nine years. The 2,252 students who completed their programs are shown in Figure 38. There were 345 (14%) students who did not complete their degrees and withdrew from their programs on average after 2.24 years of study. The students who completed their degree within nine years took an average of 5.7 years to complete their studies.
